

Jeffrey Chee

Global Head of Portfolio Strategy, Willis Towers Watson

Jeff is our Global Head of Portfolio Strategy, with responsibility for the continued evolution of our top-down portfolio construction process, the integration of the key dimensions of portfolio quality into the portfolios that we develop for our clients. He is also a member of WTW's global Asset Research Team with a particular focus on sustainability and dynamic asset allocation. Jeff has been instrumental in developing a number of climate scenarios and associated asset return impacts, as well as WTW's framework for net zero reporting and integrating climate and other sustainability-related issues into portfolio construction.

Jeff has over 20 years of experience in the pensions and investments industry, having commenced his career in 2001 in the actuarial practice of Towers Watson's legacy organization Watson Wyatt. Jeff obtained a Bachelor of Commerce (Honours) degree at the University of Melbourne in 2000, graduating with first class honours and winning the William Noall and Son prize for the top honours graduate in the Faculty of Economics and Commerce. He qualified as a Fellow of the Institute of Actuaries in 2003, winning the Prescott prize for the best overall performance in completing the Institute's education program.
