

Kate Bromley

General Manager, Responsible Investment

Kate Bromley is General Manager, Responsible Investment at QIC. Kate works with QIC's Board and Executive Team to ensure QIC is strategically and culturally aligned to deliver commercial success in ways that are aligned to sustainable outcomes.

In leading QIC's Responsible Investment team, Kate directs the development of QIC's Sustainability Strategy and the QIC ESG framework to systematically identify and integrate financially material and emerging ESG issues into the corporate and investment strategy. The team plays a key enabling role in integrating ESG practices across all of QIC's investment teams' processes. Further, the team leads the development of QIC's approach to systemic ESG considerations, including climate risk and resilience portfolio analytics, net zero emissions strategies and modern slavery.

In addition to representing QIC in a range of ESG forums, Kate chairs Investor Group on Climate Change's Physical Risk and Resilience Working Group. Kate joined QIC in 2016 and has 15 years' experience holding ESG roles in the institutional investment industry. Previously, Kate worked at QSuper where she led the development of the fund's ESG program.
